

I am Palmyra Proud and have been serving our school community as the Superintendent of Schools since July 1, 2012. Prior to Palmyra, I was as the Superintendent for the New Hanover Township School District in Wrightstown, NJ from 2009-2012, and I was the Director of Adult Basic Skills at Salem County Vocational Technical School in Woodstown, NJ from 2008-2009. My seven years of classroom teaching experience encompassed the elementary, middle, and high school levels. I worked in the Clementon School District from 2002-2005 and in the Monroe Township School District from 2005-2008. Prior to serving in public education I worked for Aetna Insurance as a Corporate Educator and Information Analyst from 1998-2001. Proudly, I served in the United States Air Force and Air National Guard from 1989-1998. During my military service I amassed nearly 1800 flying hours as an In-flight Refueling Technician aboard the KC-135 refueling jet and attended flight school at NAS Pensacola as a student navigator. Having served as both a Non-Commissioned Officer and a Commissioned Officer, I honorably left the military in 2001 to pursue other opportunities. Presently, I am doctoral student at Stockton University and anticipate graduating in May of 2019 with my Ed.D. in Organizational Leadership. In 2007, I received my M.Ed. in Executive Educational Leadership, Management and Policy from Seton Hall University. In 1996 I received my B.A. in Political Science from Stockton College in NJ. As a life-long resident of NJ, I was raised in Delran and currently reside in Williamstown with my lovely wife, Kim, and our two children (a son who is 16, and a daughter who is 13). I am an active member in my community and have been serving as a volunteer leader with the Boy Scouts of America since 2007.
